Evaluation Support Scotland Update February 2015

Dear Patty,

Hello

This is our tenth year supporting third sector organisations and funders to self evaluate. Join us at our conference, 'Looking back Looking forward', on 14 May in Edinburgh, at which we will share and celebrate the learning from the last ten years. We hope that you will be there too! See below for more information and booking details.

Book your place for our full day birthday conference, 'Looking back Looking forward', which will take place on 14 May 2015 at John MacIntyre Conference Centre, Pollock Halls, Edinburgh.

Take advantage of the early bird rate; book before the 16th of March.

At this participative event you will have the opportunity to learn about evaluation in a variety of third sector settings and from different perspectives; share your views and ideas about the future of evaluation support, and network with third sector organisations, funders and policy-makers. There will be a session looking at your evaluation challenges and a chance to discuss solutions. Please click for a draft programme of the day.

As this is a birthday event there will be a chance at the end of the conference (4-5pm) to party with ESS staff and Trustees for a glass of bubbles and cake - not to be missed!

This is an opportunity for us to meet you, and for you to meet us. We are really looking forward to seeing you so please book your place today and don't miss out!

If you can't wait until May to find out more about ESS check out the first of a series of blogs written by some ESS friends: ESS' first convenor remembers \(Fraser Falconer\).

ESS Stakeholder Survey Draw Winner

We are pleased to announce that Kirsty McLuckie, Oban Youth Cafe, has won the ESS Stakeholder Survey draw winning a place at our birthday conference. We would like to thank everyone who responded to our Stakeholder Survey 2014. This survey is part of a wider evaluation project looking into the longer term impact of ESS' evaluation support. The report will be launched at the conference.
